	Objectives: The primary objective of conducting Group Discussions among students in college is to develop and assess their communication skills, critical thinking abilities, teamwork, and problem solving capacity. Group Discussions serve as a dynamic platform where students can express their ideas, listen to others, and engage in constructive dialogue on a given topic. Through Group Discussions, students learn how to articulate their thoughts clearly, use appropriate language, maintain eye contact, and respond effectively. Outcome: The main outcome related to conducting Group Discussions among students is the holistic development of their communication, cognitive skill. They learn to listen actively, use appropriate language, and engage in meaningful dialogue.
