

DAYANAND COLLEGE OF COMMERCE, LATUR

Academic Year : 2025-26

Activity Name : Visualizing Insurance: LIC Experiential Classroom Activity

- ❖ Number of Participant: 17
- ❖ Number of Attendees: 44

Date of the activity: 18.02.2026

Class : B.Com FY (E)

Introduction:

Insurance is an important component of financial planning and risk management. For commerce students, understanding the concept of insurance is essential as it helps them connect theoretical knowledge with real-life financial situations. However, insurance concepts can sometimes appear abstract when taught only through lectures. Experiential learning activities help students visualize these concepts and understand their practical relevance.

The “Visualizing Insurance: LIC Experiential Classroom Activity” was organized for First Year B.Com (FYB.Com) students to enhance their understanding of life insurance through creative and participative learning. The activity focused on the role of the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) in providing financial security to individuals and families.

In this activity, students individually prepared posters illustrating the concept, benefits, and importance of life insurance. Through visual representation, students were able to better understand how insurance policies protect families from financial risks and uncertainties.

Objectives of the Activity:

1. To help FYB.Com students understand the basic concept and importance of life insurance.
2. To introduce students to the role of LIC in providing financial security and protection.
3. To encourage creative and experiential learning through visual representation of insurance concepts.
4. To help students connect theoretical knowledge of insurance with real-life financial situations.

Activity Description:

The activity was conducted in the classroom for FYB.Com students to help them visualize and understand the concept of life insurance.

Introduction to the Topic: The teacher briefly explained the concept of insurance, its importance in financial planning, and the role of LIC in the Indian insurance sector.

Poster Preparation:

Each student was asked to individually design and prepare a poster illustrating aspects of life insurance such as:

- Importance of life insurance
- Risk protection for families
- Benefits of LIC policies
- Financial security in uncertain situations

Poster Presentation:

Students presented their posters individually in front of the class and explained the ideas and messages represented in their visual work.

Teacher Feedback:

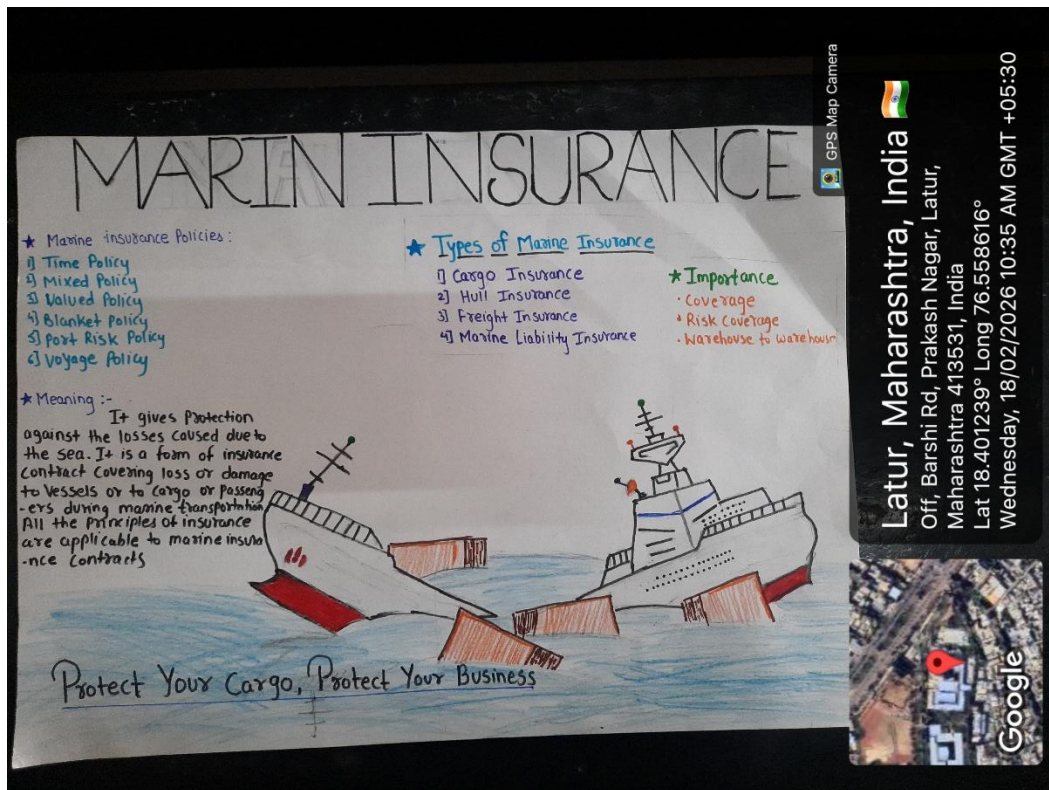

The teacher provided feedback on the creativity, clarity, and understanding of the insurance concepts presented in the posters.

Outcomes of the Activity:

- Students gained a clearer understanding of life insurance and its importance in financial security.
- Preparing posters helped students creatively express financial concepts through visual communication.
- Individual presentations helped students build confidence and improve their ability to explain financial ideas.
- Students were able to relate the theoretical concepts of insurance to practical and real-life situations.
